Thematic Fund for Climate Stability

Climate Stability is one of UNEP’s three main strategic objectives and as such will depend on countries making balanced progress towards their mitigation and adaptation commitments under the Paris Agreement and the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. By 2025 the Thematic Fund for Climate Stability will support:

Access to finance and technology to help countries achieve the goals of the Paris Agreement	Decarbonization and resilience to drive global growth	Greater transparency in line with the Paris Agreement to become the norm for States and territories

The three overarching goals of the Thematic Fund for Climate Stability Fund are:

Goal-1

Science and Transparency: State and non-state actors adopt the enhanced transparency framework arrangements under the Paris Agreement

Resources from the Climate Stability fund will be used to achieve this goal by:

- Enhancing UNEP’s role as a provider of scientific information that measures progress towards carbon neutrality and resilience and assesses the potential and risks associated with the measures applied. UNEP will compile, assess, and communicate the latest climate-related scientific data and propose policy options to help public- and private-sector decision makers engage in ambitious climate actions in line with the goals of the Paris Agreement.
- Helping UNEP assist countries in meeting their transparency and reporting obligations of the enhanced transparency framework established under the Paris Agreement.
- Capitalizing on UNEP’s role as a data-driven authority to support national institutions in tracking and reporting on climate actions, including through the development of greenhouse gas inventories; mapping progress towards their nationally determined contributions and adaptation actions; and tracking financial support provided and mobilized. The enhancement of existing national arrangements and sharpening of related regulatory frameworks will be central to these actions.
- Pursuing reporting synergies with global and regional Multilateral Environmental Agreements (MEAs), and the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. This will contribute to greater coherence in tracking progress in the implementation of climate actions.
- Assisting countries in assessing and better reporting on their climate-related national capabilities and circumstances, including their capacity-building and technology needs, related finance, investment and trade trends, especially for least developed countries and small island developing states.

- Helping UNEP facilitate the collection, sharing and validation of climate-related knowledge and data at national and subnational levels. This will contribute to enhanced statistics, capacity and promote science-based policy making and accountability across ministries towards the implementation of mitigation and adaptation actions.

Goal-2

Sectoral Solutions: Decision makers at all levels adopt decarbonization, dematerialization and adaptation pathways towards climate stability and resilience

Resources from the Climate Stability fund will be used to achieve this goal by:

- Helping UNEP, in collaboration with its networks, support countries in taking full advantage of the opportunities presented by decarbonization, dematerialization and adaptation. This work will focus on sectors with the highest emissions and importance for societal resilience.
- Designing and highlighting opportunities for action in such sectors through action-oriented partnerships, including private-sector alliances, and support at the country-level uptake of sustainable and poverty-eradicating solutions.
- Assisting UNEP to connect countries to climate technology solutions by providing technical assistance, capacity-building and advice on technology solutions and accelerated access to climate technologies for low-emission and climate-resilient development.
- Facilitating the development of enabling policies, and legal and regulatory frameworks for solutions tailored to the needs of countries and the needs of vulnerable groups, including people living with disability, youth, children, indigenous people and people living in poverty.
- Assisting countries embed decarbonization, dematerialization and resilience in their revolving climate aspirations while also linking them to adjustments in the policy and regulatory frameworks. Those frameworks will inform nationally determined contributions and long-term strategies, as well as climate adaptation planning (e.g., early warning systems).
- Supporting UNEP's effort to expand ecosystem-based adaptation as a key measure to build resilience of the ecological foundation of economies and the poorest population segments in both urban and rural areas.
- Supporting the digitalization of climate solutions, through standardization, certifications, digital applications and e-commerce platforms. UNEP will also scale up efforts to reduce the carbon footprint of the information and communications technology sector, focusing on data centres, blockchain applications and the gaming sector.

Goal-3

Finance and Consumers: Support large scale activation of finance and consumer behavior in support of the Paris Agreement

Resources from the Climate Stability fund will be used to achieve this goal by:

- Supporting the accelerated alignment of private and public finance with the long-term finance goals of the Paris Agreement. Such work will support the adoption of sustainable business and market models that can facilitate a shift towards low-emission and resilient pathways in public- and private-sector investments and long-term planning across all sectors.
- Leveraging UNEP's partnerships and multi-stakeholder platforms to support the accelerated design and implementation of public policies and fiscal incentives to address climate risks and impacts within the scope of an investment environment that is conducive to the achievement of the Paris Agreement goals.
- Providing reliable, accessible, state-of-the-art environmental information, including on public policies and incentives, that reduces uncertainty and risk in decision making.
- Contributing to climate stability and resilience by accelerating the adoption of low-carbon behaviors and products by sectors and consumers. Digital solutions will drive sustainable production and consumption of low-carbon goods and services through increased carbon emissions transparency, fiscal incentives and legal frameworks.
- Aiding countries to catalyze public support and political will for climate action. UNEP's work will also support advocacy for societal change that brings climate-positive outcomes while creating jobs, eradicating poverty and enabling a just transition. The focus will remain firmly on generating science-driven public support for ambitious climate action and supporting sustainable consumer behavior.
- Helping UNEP act as a link between policymakers and the public. For example, communicating the benefits of using sustainable products and adopting sustainable lifestyles while sharing information that supports making the economic case for such change. Facilitating public access to environmental information and increasing public awareness through formal and non-formal education, youth-led action and grassroots campaigns will be key levers of change that will shift knowledge and attitudes across society and unearmarked funding will be used to directly fund such activities.
